We have a new bread recipe in class, and I want to try. "I bet we make a great loaf." I said. Chris said he would make some tea to go with it.

I read the recipe and added all the ingredients.
I was off to a great start.

SAMPLE

I put it in the oven and watched it bake and rise. I got help to deal with taking it out.

When the bread came out,
it was quite warm. I was dreading cutting it because I could see steam.

SAMPLE

I didn't want to go near it because of the steam. So an adult helped me slice it all.

SAMPLE

I decided to spread some butter and jam on a few slices. By this time the tea was ready.

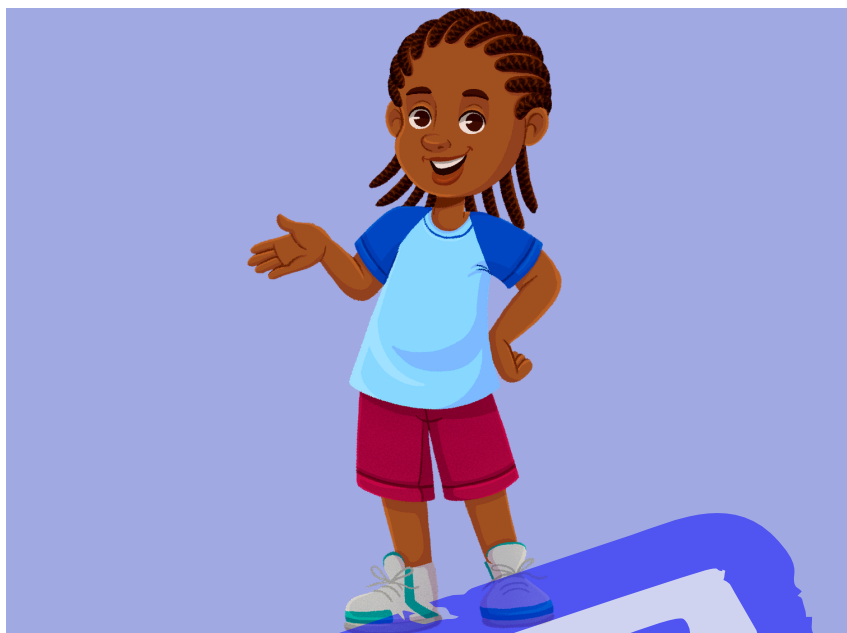

SAMPLE

Chris looked at the bread and said it was an ideal loaf and that he was ready to eat. What a good day for bread and tea.

SAMPLE

I think that I will start to get more creative with what I make. I did a pretty good job with this bread.

I make great bread. Just imagine what else I can do.

SAMPLE

I have lots of ideas in my head about what I can do next, and none are easy.

SAMPLE

I may be on the road to becoming a chef someday.
I am every great thing.
